

Dancin' Round this Bonfire

Music & Words by Mark Dean © 2018 Audio Portrait Music ASCAP

Dancin' Round this Bonfire is the sixth single released by Symphony Triteleia Laxa. Written between 1983 and 2016. Recorded by Mark Dean between 2012 and 2023 in Studio at AEP in Lincoln CA. and Studio at Revolving Windows in Penn Hills PA. Mark Dean performs: Drums / Bass / Electric Guitars / Mandocello / Toy piano / Maracas / Tambourine / Cowbell / Lead & backup vocals / Tribal voices. Additional Tribal voices provided by Levi Miller, Tim Morse, and Lily Dean.

Produced, engineered, mixed mastered, and designed by Mark Dean

Genre: Progressive Rock, Alternative Pop/Rock, Alternative/Indie Rock, Alternative Metal, Progressive Metal

Description: Dancin' Round this Bonfire is a tribal celebration of love, music, and presence on a starry night. Mesmerizing rhythms, funky rockin' grooves, cosmic melodies. "There's nothing like the primal cry of love's cut through the air. Cliff face echo's sing along, out from caves aware."

Quote: Rock enthusiasts of all sorts, particularly fans of prog-metal, will revel in the potent sound and unbridled spirit of "Dancing' Round this Bonfire" from Symphony Triteleia Laxa. ... It's a great sounding track that certainly captures and conveys a holistic sense of community and a shared collective consciousness. Stellar work, from top to bottom! Steven Azami (Radio Airplay)

Released by: Revolving Windows 2024

<https://revolvingwindowsofficial.com>

Contact: revolvingwindows@icloud.com